Bursary to Attend the International Congress on Porphyrins and Porphyrias (ICPP) Pamplona, Spain, 21st-25th September 2024

Dear Ipnet member,

The Ipnet Executive Board are delighted to announce the Bursary scheme to provide financial support to young scientists and clinicians wishing to attend and present their porphyria work at the International Congress on Porphyrins and Porphyrias.

\(http://icpp2024.com/\)

Applicants should be aged under 40 years in 2024, and work on porphyria, in or with a recognised Ipnet centre, this centre must be a full or associate member of Ipnet. Funds are available to support up to 6 individuals. The bursary award is €1000. In addition, the Congress organizing committee have agreed to waive the registration fee for the successful applicants.

The level of the award will vary according to the travel distance. The award is €1500 for those coming from a long distance, with expensive travels). Funding will be made available in advance of the meeting in order to allow accommodation and travel to be booked and paid for.

Applicants are required to be the first author on an abstract, and if selected for an oral presentation will be required to present the talk themselves. Their eligibility to apply for the bursary should also be confirmed by the signature of the director/ coordinator of their local Ipnet centre.

We have developed an application form which is attached. Please complete and return to the Ipnet secretary by email. Please don't forget to include a copy of your abstract.

The deadline for applications is Friday June 7th 2024. The successful recipients will be informed before the summer.

Yours sincerely
